

State report shows status of High School

The Arlington Heights Township high school, both in the state and the North Central association, is inspected alternately by the state department and the University of Illinois high school visitor for the North Central association. High schools which are found to be unsatisfactory are inspected yearly, while those which are always found to be in the upper classifications are inspected every other year.

It has come to the attention of school authorities in Arlington Heights on several occasions that misleading information has been circulated regarding the standing of the local high school. Such attempts to spread untrue rumors may have started with a few individuals who from personal reasons have wished to harm the standing of the high school.

Inasmuch as the report has just been received from the high school visitor's office regarding the inspection which was made January 1, the report is being published in full, herewith. The local high school has not been inspected except every two or three years, indicating that the state officers consider the school to be in good condition. No high schools are rated other than "accredited" or "advanced" or "not accredited." The Arlington Heights high school has been accredited continuously since 1930 by the North Central association.

The report follows:

Dear Mr. Conger:

On January 11, 1944, I visited the Arlington Heights Township high school. The report of the visit is as follows:

1. Instruction and Spirit. I was able to observe only a limited amount of instruction on the day of my visit. I was very favorably impressed with what I observed. There appeared to be a fine esprit de corps among the faculty. The school spirit was commendable. The whole spirit of the school is such as to make for the development of desirable social attitudes and habits of behavior.

2. School Plant. You have a good substantial plant which, however, is being outgrown. I understand that additions are being considered which will make it possible to better adapt the educational offerings to the needs of the pupils when building materials become available.

3. Instructional Equipment. In general, the equipment is very good for the size of the classes and the courses offered.

4. School Library. The collection of books and materials is about average for schools of this size. The library room is very small for the number enrolled.

5. School Records. Satisfactory.

6. Administration and Supervision. This school is well organized and efficiently administered. The excellent esprit de corps of the teachers and the fine school spirit are evidence of effective supervision.

7. Preparation of Teachers. According to the annual report, 13 out of 27 teachers have Master's degrees and one a Doctor's degree. Others are doing advanced work. For general preparation this is very good. Teachers are well trained for the subjects to which they have been assigned.

8. Teaching Load. Average.

9. Pupil Load. Satisfactory.

10. Educational program. Average.

11. General Estimate of the School. This is a good school. The report of this school will be presented to the committee on admissions at its next meeting and you will receive a report of the action taken some time before the close of the school year.

I enjoyed my visit to your school and appreciate the hospitality and the many courtesies extended to me.

(Signed) F. C. Hood
Assistant High School Visitor

Oil transport trucks asked to cut speed down to 20 miles

Arlington Heights village board directed its clerk Monday evening to notify companies operating oil transport trucks that speed of such vehicles must be cut to 20 miles an hour when passing through Arlington Heights. "It is a safety measure," stated Alderman Rizzo, chairman of the police committee. "The oil trucks are so large and heavy that they are a real hazard to any autoist who might not see them approaching. The cut speed will not effect them and may save the life of more than one autoist, who might otherwise be unfortunate enough to hit or be hit by one of the 'tank cars.'"

Seek names of servicemen from Arlington high

Arlington Heights high school is desirous of securing the names of former students who graduated from or who attended school at least two years who are now or have been in the armed services. Members of their families are requested to send a card to the high school, giving the name, year of graduation or years attended, and branch of service of the serviceman.

Students pick girl to lose head Wednesday

The students of the Arlington Heights high school elected Miss Lorraine Taage, 311 N. Vail Ave., Arlington Heights, as the girl who will have her head vanish from her body at the coming evening of magic sponsored by the Athletic Association of the high school. She was selected by applause meter from the girls of the Twirlers and Cheerleaders who are largely responsible for the added color of the athletic events at the school.

The students at the High School will have a short assembly program on the afternoon of Wednesday, February 16th, at which time Miss Taage will be crowned. The evening show will be two hours in length. Pierce brings his own stage scenery and lights and guarantees an evening of unusual comedy.

Live Rabbits to be Given Away

The rabbits which materialize from nowhere will be given to members of the audience during the evening performance. Tickets for the evening performance are in the hands of boys of the school and also are available in several of the civic clubs and organizations. Money earned by the boys of the "A" Club will be used for the purchase of their athletic award letters and other equipment.

Tickets for adults are 40 cents including tax for the evening performance, and grade school children only are given a rate of 30 cents including tax. Grade school children can only obtain their tickets at the door.

Doors will be open at 7:00 p.m. so come early and secure a good seat as no seats are reserved.

One Model Will Parade at Assembly

At the afternoon assembly only one of the 15 models will parade, and although "Annabelle" Stroker seems to be the "Queen" at present, "Myrtle" and "Margie" Williams have a heavy following for the beauty title. Some of the wardrobe to be modeled are: slacks, tennis, swimming, riding habits, shorts, gardening, street wear, night wear, formal, lingerie, etc. Any ladies of Arlington Heights who miss any of their unmentionables from the clothes lines this week call at the property room after the performance for their property.

Men's club pick officers

Members of the Men's Club met at the Methodist church Monday evening for election of officers and to choose a name for their organization.

Officers are: Lawrence Middel, president; Harold Dotts, vice-president; Ken Miltstead, secretary; Walsh Pierce, treasurer.

The club's name is to be The Men's Forum. It will meet on the first and third Monday of each month. All men in Arlington Heights are invited to come to these meetings.

The program feature of the evening was provided by Lonnie Lund of Park Ridge, who is six years old and has played the piano by ear since he was four. He has played with the Chicago Junior Symphony Orchestra and other Chicago orchestras and has even done some composing.

Lions hear talk on Abraham Lincoln

Arlington Heights Lions club was fortunate in obtaining the services of Mr. W. McKinney as speaker at its last meeting, Feb. 12. The speaker's subject was "Abraham Lincoln." Mr. McKinney has lived in Robinson, Illinois a number of years and therefore has acquired a great many true angles on the early life of "Honest Abe" and his family. Most of the information had been told to him by residents of long standing whose parents had known and associated with Mr. Lincoln.

A large majority of the members were present and the evening as a whole was enjoyed by everyone.

Public invited to hear talk and see Lincoln slides

C. A. Hughes will give a talk on Abraham Lincoln before the men's class at the Presbyterian church Sunday morning at 9:45. He will also show slides of Lincoln's life that he has collected. Mr. Hughes' hobby is a life study of Abraham Lincoln and he has accumulated a lot of information about the martyred president that is not found in history books.

The meeting is open to the general public.

Name members of Post War Committee

N. M. Lattot, chairman of the Arlington Heights Post War Planning committee, expects to call a meeting within a short time of the men who have been named as members of that committee. They were carefully selected, each representing some particular civic organization, manufacturing firm, or business which will probably be helpful in stabilizing local conditions and formulating plans for post war development of the community.

The appointments and recommendations made jointly by N. M. Lattot as chairman of the OCD and Mayor Albert Goedke, were approved by the municipal council Monday evening. The members are:

N. M. Lattot, OCD, chairman; Henry F. Muller, Trade and Civic; Virgil Horath, Lions Club; A. Hansen, Creamery Package; E. A. Clavey, E. W. A. Rowles Co.; C. E. McWharter, Arlington Seating; Paul Taage, Concrete Products; Theo. Studdart, Village Board; Art Franzen, National Bank; Walter Krause, Realtor; C. M. Behrens, Realtor; Geo. C. Poole, business man; John Randag, Pet Milk Co.; Elmer Crane, Legion Post; J. F. Meyer, for the farmers; Matt Burfield, Attorney; S. R. Paddock, Publisher.

Dies after losing both legs in factory accident

Steve Rubenich, 48, who was injured last Wednesday while working at the Thermal-tile plant, Arlington Heights, died Saturday at the Northwestern hospital, Des Plaines. Both of his legs were amputated by doctors in an attempt to save his life.

Funeral services were held Tuesday morning from Lauterburg & Oehler's chapel to St. James church; interment All Saints cemetery.

Efforts of the police to locate possible relatives had not been successful but an hour before the funeral a brother arrived. He first requested that the funeral be delayed but later gave his approval. He stated that he thought his brother had a wife in the old country.

Upon being taken to the hospital the injured man had turned over to Chief Skoog a money belt containing ample funds for burial expenses.

Will aid owners in effort to end drainage trouble

Arlington Heights village board went on record Monday night as being ready to participate in any legal action that may be necessary to stop the flowing of surplus water from the estate property south of the village to property adjoining and north of Rockwell street.

The village will direct its engineer to make necessary surveys of existing sewer within the village and any artificial changes in the contour of adjoining land made by the developers of the property south of the village from which surplus water is taxing the existing sewer.

Definite court action will await the report of the engineer.

Bond speaker likes Arlington high students

Mrs. Glenn Frank, who spoke in behalf of the 4th War Bond drive before the Arlington Heights high school students at an assembly program last week, was obtained from the Speakers Bureau by Mr. Lattot and Mr. Franzen of the local committee.

After returning to Chicago Mrs. Frank phoned Mr. Conger just to tell him what a wonderful student body Arlington Heights has and what a fine group they are to speak to. Mrs. Frank was the wife of Glenn Frank who was President of the University of Wisconsin for 12 years previous to his death.

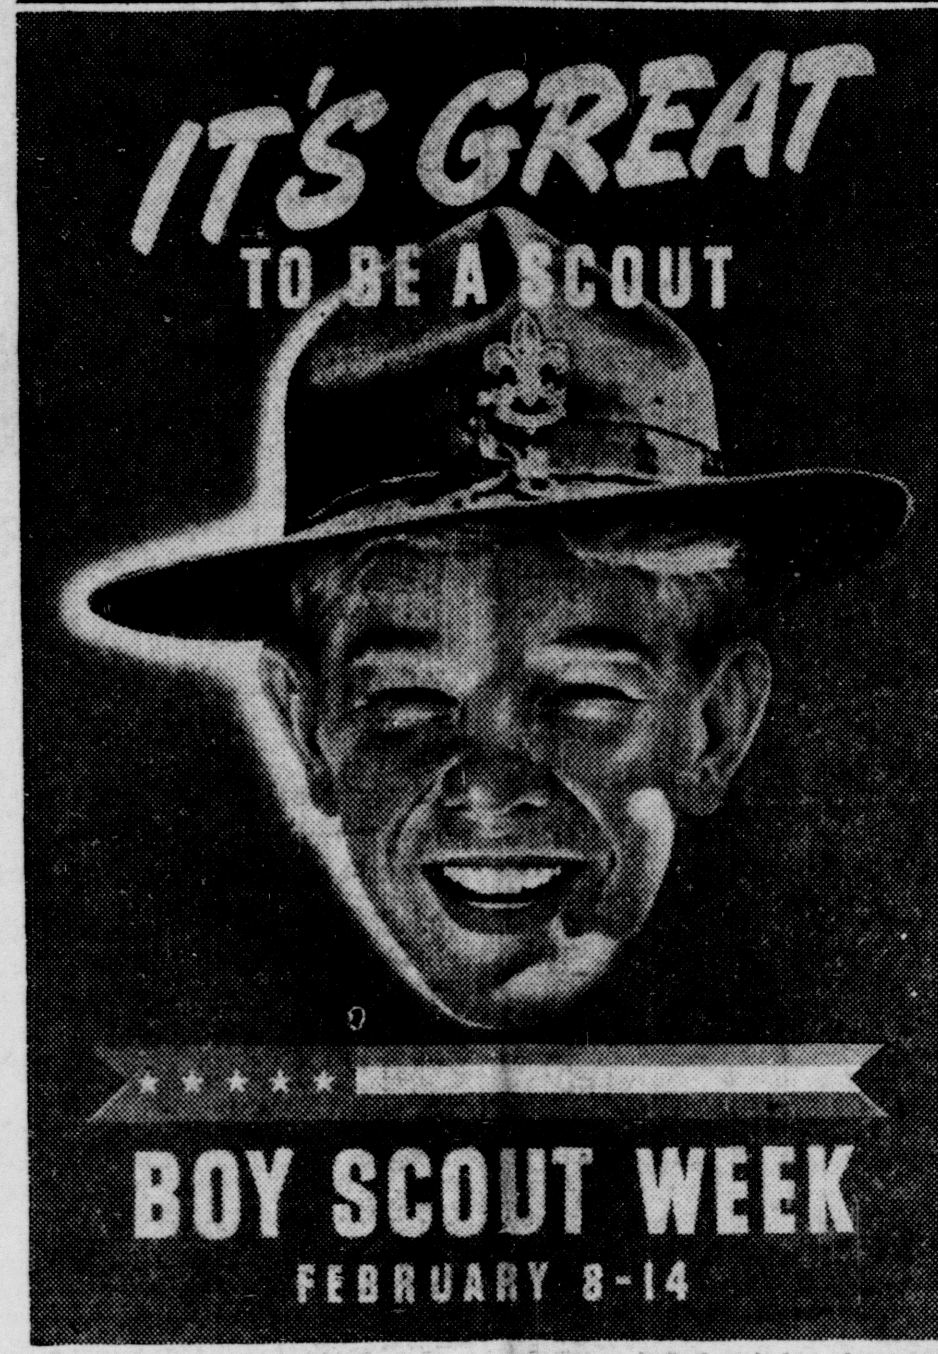

As a former teacher and from her position at the University of Wisconsin she seems to be well qualified to judge young people, and as if in appreciation of her remarks, stamp sales have increased several times since her visit.

Water department buys third War Loan Bond

The village of Arlington Heights purchased this week its third thousand dollar War Loan Bond, investing funds in its water account. The municipality segregates its various funds and accumulated monies of the water department made the purchase possible.

Entrance pillars go to salvage

The entrance pillars in Scarsdale have been torn down. The iron within the brick structures is going to be salvaged. The pillars which were originally things of beauty had become dangerous to the young children who might play around them.

Land owners ask post war aid of municipality

Five Chicago residents who have recently purchased tracts of vacant land in the northeastern part of Arlington Heights appeared before the village board Monday evening asking post-war planning for the development, possibly with government aid, of their property which lies within the old Nightengale farm, north of the Draper farm, and is called Taylor's addition to Arlington Heights.

They said that they were members of Northeast Arlington Heights Improvement association and stated they wanted to be included in post war plans of the community. They have erected no homes and can't do so until after the end of the war, but they will need both sewer and water.

The members of the association appearing before the board were Messrs. Gentili, president; Born, Hilton, Faussett and Rickvert.

Mayor Goedke advised them that the village engineer would gladly give them a rough estimate of the costs of such improvements, but that as the territory in question had paid no assessments for either present water or sewer system, there would be a basic acreage charge in addition to the price of installation of water mains and sewer. The visitors stated that at present they were more particularly interested in water.

First scout troop in Arlington Heights organized in 1914

Fred Siemro who was a member of the first boy scout troop in Arlington Heights brought some interesting scout history to the Herald office this week. He still has his Scout handbook, on the flyleaf of which appears, "This is to certify that Fred Siemro of Arlington Heights, Ill., age 18, is a member of Wolf patrol of troop one, W. B. Chapman, scoutmaster. Qualified as a tenderfoot Feb. 22, 1915."

Mr. Siemro says that the first troop and patrol of which he was a member was organized in 1914. It met in the kitchen and dining room of the scoutmaster's home, now the Beatty place, East Euclid. The members of the patrol were Fred Siemro, Irving Chapman, Edwin Klehm, Howard Wayman, Thurman Dodge and Harold Fitzpatrick. Mr. Chapman left Arlington about ten years ago and is a resident of California.

The Herald is glad to pass on to its readers this bit of early scout history and suggests that it be filed in the archives of the North-west Council.

New fuel oil stamps now valid

Fuel oil rations remain unchanged at 10 gallons per unit for period 4 which began February 8. In addition, period 5 coupons, which also became valid February 8 have been given a 10 gallon unit value. Period 3 coupons remain valid through March 13 in the Midwest area.

"Keep your eye on the thermometer," say authorities. "That's the best way to make sure you're not burning up your fuel oil rations before winter ends. Right now 50 per cent of oil users in the Middle West have used more than their quota with the coldest months still ahead. There simply is not enough oil to take care of those who carelessly burn up their rations. Therefore, the only way out for every fuel oil user is to stretch his ration so it will last until the sun comes out!"

Arlington H'ts nears $200,000 War Loan goal

The $200,000 Arlington Heights quota is nearly reached.

$178,000 bonds were reported sold by the solicitors of the Fourth War Loan Drive. Most of the captains have completed their canvasses and are turning in their final reports and every effort will be made to finish their jobs by this week-end.

An earnest attempt has been made to contact every one and explain any and all details, thus presenting the opportunity to all citizens to take part in this great undertaking. If any one has been missed please phone Arlington Heights 35 or 1360 and a solicitor will immediately be sent to see you.

The official campaign closes on February 15th. However any sales for the three savings bond issues, E, F and G subscribed for until the close of business on February 26th will be counted and considered as a part of the drive totals.

The U. S. Treasury Dept., as well as the committee are highly elated with the results of this district. A hundred local people have participated in this campaign.

Pick delegates for youth conference

"Teen age youth of every community of Chicago will be represented at the great conference for youth in the City Hall Council Chambers Friday afternoon, February 11. Present at the sessions will be the delegates of more than 176,000 high school students of the Chicago area.

The conference is without precedent in that the young people from the public, parochial and Cook County board high schools themselves are running the show without the well-meaning but sometimes misunderstanding help of the adults.

The leaders of tomorrow will meet at the council chambers of the City Hall, where the city's fathers decide civic problems, for the following two-fold purpose:

1. To develop their own ideas on how to build a better America.

2. To tell their own needs. The delegates are being picked at school assemblies arranged by the principals and student councils. Selection of the delegates is on the basis of one representative for each high school with 1,000 students or less. Schools with higher enrollment will have proportionately larger representation.

Delegates selected by Arlington Heights township high school are: Robert McArdle and Lois Knack.

E. J. Lewinski of Mt. Prospect is Executive Secretary of the Chicago Conference for Youth, the Adult Conference which is making the meeting of the Youth Conference possible.

Preinduction exams reject 40% of all men

Colonel Paul G. Armstrong, Illinois director of Selective Service, today announced that Class 1-A registrants who have appealed their classifications may be forwarded for preinduction physical examination and that all their rights of appeal will be fully protected.

A number of registrants and their employers who have appealed their classifications seem quite concerned because they were ordered to report for preinduction physical examination prior to having their appeals considered by the appeal boards.

"There is no need for worry on the part of these registrants since the preinduction physical examination is made simply to determine whether or not they are acceptable to the armed forces. If a registrant appeals his 1-A classification, further action on his appeal is withheld until after he has had his preinduction examination. If the armed forces find him acceptable for military service, his appeal is then forwarded to the board of appeal for review. If he is rejected on the preinduction examination, he is automatically classified in Class IV-F, leaving no further need for action on his appeal. A request for personal appearance before the local board receives the same protection given a registrant's request for appeal.

Approximately 40 per cent of all registrants who are forwarded for preinduction physical examination are being rejected for physical or mental reasons. The mere fact that a registrant is forwarded for preinduction physical examination must not necessarily be taken as assurance that he is to be inducted later on.

"All registrants are warned that, if they wish to request a personal appearance or make an appeal, they must do so in writing within the prescribed 10 days after the date of mailing of their classification notice."

Bingo parties

The Merle Guild Post 208 will hold bingo parties at the American Legion House, Arlington Heights, February 12, 19 and 26, at 8 p. m.

Door prizes, war bonds and stamps will be offered. Refreshments will be served.

Scouts to see and hear about new scout camp

'30'

In the death of Richard Wessel, an employee of Paddock Publications seventeen years, the publishers have lost not only a faithful and loyal employee, but personal friend as well.

Dick had the interest of the newspaper at heart, was always ready to work extra hours in order that the paper might make the dead line. He could always be depended upon to do his best and rejoiced in any success that came the way of the publication family — fellow employees as well as the management.

The "30" that has been placed before the name of Richard Wessel on the records of the firm is in reality a distinguished service award to the man who gave his best to his fellow citizens, his employers, his co-workers and the world at large.

We will all miss him.

Arlington girl scouts plan special events

February is an all important month for Girl Scouts as it is for the Boy Scouts. The various groups in Arlington Heights are making special plans for events during the month. Chief of these is a program for National Friendship day, February 22 which will be an International night of which next week's issue will carry full details.

The attention of all boy and girl scouts as well as their parents is called to a radio program, "Here's to Youth," appearing on the NBC every Saturday from one to one thirty, comprising a series of thirteen dramatic programs based on current problems facing young people of America today and the part played by voluntary youth serving agencies in their solution.

New Brownie Troop

A new Brownie troop has been organized at the South Side school. Mrs. Cleaver and Mrs. Franke are co-leaders.

The Girl Scouts of troop 3 will have a Valentine dance at the field house on February 18 from 7:30 to 10:00 p. m. Their guests will be the Boy Scouts from the 7th and 8th grades of the North school. The general chairman, Carol LaPlante appointed the following girls to serve on her various committees:

Invitation committee: Andrea Kennedy, Lois Kenig, Lois Scott, Jackie Ryan and Joan Cahill. Games committee: Margie Sledz, Priscilla Glow, Mergie Heinze, Katherine Shanklin.

Hostesses for the evening are Irene Lattot, Betty Emmrick, Bonita Walt and Joan Dodge.

The evening will be spent in games and dancing and a grand march and box social lunches are included in the plans.

Ingrid Schuren, secretary of troop 3, reports that on January 31, the Girl Scouts met at the field house. They did not have a regular business meeting but worked on several projects. Some practiced folk dances for International night in which all Girl Scout troops will take part. Other girls made arrangements for the invitations and games in preparation for their valentine party.

'Let her snow,' says Bill Luehring

The village has spent a couple of hundred dollars to get the snow plow in proper shape for winter snow, but Wm. Luehring, superintendent of the street department does not regret the preparedness. "This is a crazy winter, anyway," says Bill, "and I would not be surprised if we needed that plow as late as April."

We hope Bill is wrong and there will be no reason to use the plow.

Court of Honor Special feature Friday night

The Court of Honor to be held Friday night at Arlington Heights field house is going to be something out of the ordinary. The scouts and cubs and their parents will see and hear about the new summer camp which Northwest Council has secured for the boys of the district who will be able to attend the coming summer. It is a most unusual camp. Its advantages place it in a class by itself.

A moving picture of the camp, activities and use of its equipment will take up nearly an hour of the evening. "It is not too early to be thinking about the scout camp," says R. E. Clabaugh, chairman of the Court of Honor and who will preside Friday evening. "This is probably the only time that these pictures will be shown in Arlington Heights and parents of scouts are naturally interested in facilities and protection that will be provided for their sons who attend the camp. It is claimed that boys at this camp are safer than at home and in the 20 years of its existence there has been no fatal accident or illness."

The Evanston Scout Council owns Camp Wabagonig. It is located on Duck Lake and Lake Michigan, near Muskegon, 235 miles north of Evanston on the east side of Lake Michigan. It is completely staffed and provides every activity that appeals to boys. It is certain that every scout and cub who sees the pictures will bring pressure to bear on dad to allow him to attend the camp. If dad comes Friday evening he will know what it is all about.

The awards to be made Friday evening will go to all boys who have earned them at the November, December and January board of reviews. In addition eleven members of the newly formed Air Scout squadron will receive their awards as Apprentice Air Scouts.

The program is under the direction of the Court of Honor committee of the Board of Review, R. E. Clabaugh chairman, Robert Blackburn, Charles Schumacher and Warren Fellingham.

Stanley Huntington, scout executive will make the Air Scout Apprentice awards, and will also discuss the plans of the council regarding camping arrangements. Chairmen of scout committee who will make the other awards are Oscar Kurtz troop 32, John Randag troop 7 and Wm. Miller troop 37.

Arlington Cubs make District record

On figures just released by the Cub Council the Arlington Heights Cubs are on top in registered membership and in other respects for the year 1943. There were 106 registered members in Pack 232 and this is over 20% larger than any other pack. Of the packs having 45 members or over, Arlington Pack is first in the number of cubs advanced during the year from one rank to another. Seventy-five per cent of the cubs advanced and while this is very good they should strive to increase the percentage during 1944.

Ninety-four boys got arrows, which shows that proper emphasis is being placed on the encouragement of the boys to achieve. In a pack of this size the administration of activities is a large undertaking. Chairman C. B. Jones and Cub Master M. W. Praelberg are to be congratulated on the supervision of the park and also the co-operation and training given the Den Dads.

The year 1943 saw the addition to Cub requirements in Pack 232 which helps not only the character and health of the Cubs but also helps in the winning the war. The most notable addition was the installation and operating of the health department under the capable leadership of Dr. Hunsinger. The forming of regular habits by the use of charts is helping the Cubs to become better physically and also is a relief to parents who are so busy in these war times.

Arlington Heights can justly be proud of the record of the Cubs.

Cubs to participate

The Cubs are participating in the observance of Scout week which will culminate next Sunday in the attendance at church. Every cub is urged to attend the church of his choice in full uniform. A number of churches will have special sermons for the cubs and scouts.

Urge schools to excuse children for farm work

The Cook County Advisory School Committee, when they met today in the office of Noble J. Puffer, Cook County Superintendent of Schools, recommended to the schools of the county that they co-operate insofar as possible in excusing children from school to work on farms within the scope of the law. Last year 1300 boys and girls from the Cook County high schools volunteered their services on the farms of Cook county.

The Council also recommends that the schools co-operate with any local organization in the community which is working with the National Children's Clothing Crusade—Save the Children Federation. This organization is collecting and forwarding discarded clothing to New York.

The Advisory Defense Council of Cook County is composed of high school principals and elementary school superintendents who examine and sort out the requests which come in for school aids, and make recommendations for the co-operation of the Cook County schools.

Ration stamps increase flow of fats to war uses

Preliminary figures indicate that giving housewives two meat-fat ration stamps for each pound of waste kitchen fats has more than doubled the weekly amount being turned in for war purposes. If final reports from renderers bear out these figures, the nation's housewives are now saving waste fats at the rate of about 200,000-000 pounds a year. While this is about double the annual rate at the time the point-for-fats program went into effect, it is still below the need of 230,000,000 pounds a year. Waste fats are used for making sulphur drugs, explosives and other war materials. In addition to the stamps, housewives receive the ceiling price of four cents a pound.

Drainage group reaffirms '75 per lot' estimated cost

Attorney Wild to prepare petition

The special drainage committee, which has been handling the drainage of surface waters matter for the Prospect Heights Improvement Association and financed by 60 public spirited citizens of the community, made its report to the board of managers last week.

In brief, the report said that drainage attorneys, engineers and experts had examined all available data and surveys on the McDonald creek, its tributaries and the slough; that a drainage engineer and contractor's representative had viewed certain sections of the main ditch and the slough and made their recommendations; that figures on present day cost of labor, materials, supplies, etc., had been compiled, and that this preliminary survey revealed that the total cost would not exceed the figure per improved lot in Prospect Heights, as quoted by the committee chairman, Harold Jollie, during the public town meeting which unanimously approved the necessity for action. The cost figure of "from $50 to $75 per improved lot" as quoted by Mr. Jollie originally was based on the personal experienced opinion of the well known drainage attorney, Aribert Wild, who was retained by the committee to act for the residents of the community. Attorney Wild reiterated the same figure, based on his practical experience in formation of similar drainage districts, at the Prospect Heights Improvement Association's second open meeting held on Wednesday evening, October 20, 1943.

With the preliminary survey completed, setting the estimate cost per improved lot no higher than anticipated, acting in behalf of the public spirited citizens who backed this community necessity with cash to carry on the preliminary organization, the committee instructed Mr. Wild to prepare the petitions for presentation to the county courts. The petitions have since been prepared and several of the public spirited citizens are now giving freely of their evening time in securing the signatures of property holders.

Due to the fact that considerable time has been lost because of the committee's desire to secure full data and unbiased opinions on costs before going ahead, J. Gordon Aiken, president of the Association and Harold Jollie, chairman of the special committee, believe that a reiteration of facts is necessary to reinforce the new residents of what has transpired to date.

The problem of drainage, or lack of drainage, intensified itself in 1940 and '41 and by the spring of 1942 practically all depression in the community turned into ponds. The drainage problem became so noticeable in 1942, due to soil saturation of homes, that all organizations appointed members to a committee to find out what could be done. The past experiences of other subdivisions and new communities were explored and serious losses in property values were found to be the experience.

Thanks VFW and Legion for fine Pingel services

The following letter was sent to John Duthorn of the Arlington Heights V.F.W. by Don Spangler, who escorted the body of the deceased Paul Pingel from the submarine base in Connecticut to Arlington Heights.

"No doubt, you are wondering why I am writing you this letter. Well, you being an active V.F.W. member I am sure that you will convey my message of thanks to the V.F.W. members of Arlington Heights.

"I sincerely want to thank the V.F.W. and American Legion for being so helpful in making the necessary arrangements and conducting such a splendid military funeral for my shipmate, Paul Pingel. I especially want to thank you for aiding in making my stay there a pleasant one. Believe me, I shall not forget your kindness and consideration in this matter."

Powder From Castor Beans

Millions of two-ounce cans of body dusting powder for the United States army—already in the packs of North African troops—will protect overseas personnel against typhus-carrying pests. Although the powder contains some pyrethrum, substantial quantities are being saved by use of a synthetic derived from the oil of a farm-grown crop—the castor bean.

It happened here

This morning glowed with a soft, pearly light, roofs, fences and every exposed surface frost-coated and the air itself a saturated solution of crystals; Venus, morning star, peered dimly radiant, in the east, and Jupiter, sinking in the west, shone thru a frosty, scintillant curtain; it seemed that at a breath the unreal scene might dissolve Cleopatra's cup but the lustrous pearl gone. It was a morning, with its frosty tingle, to incite the squirrels to wild acrobatic stunts thru the tree tops, testing agility, speed and balance; while the limber branch of the last take-off was still swaying there was a flash of grey and a happy landing in the tree across the alley. We are faced with a paper shortage, an unbelievable situation when we consider the annual paper waste for which we as a people are responsible; consider the tons of waste consumed in the incinerators of hotels, offices and apartment buildings, to say nothing of the paper litter scattered everywhere by a paper shedding people. If this shortage continues, becoming more serious, how will it affect our comfort and happiness? Will the making of many books be curtailed? Will fewer new magazines spring to life, fewer hand bills be left on our porches, fewer reports and questionnaires be put out? If there should be a shortage of new books and periodicals, we may be thrown back upon libraries, upon old books worthy of re-reading and studying, or even upon thinking as a means of enjoyment, and of course, there may be an end of scribbles and scribbling.

Wins science citation here

Virginia Anne Milligan of Mt. Prospect was one of 260 students receiving honorable mention citations given to outstanding boy and girl high school students who participated in the third annual Science Talent Search.

She is a student at Arlington Heights high school.

All the honorable mention awards—students receiving them come from 39 states and the District of Columbia—will be brought to the attention of scholarship-awarding colleges and universities. In many instances in the past, such honorable mentions in the Science Talent Search had been the practical equivalent of college scholarships.

The potential value of these citations can be seen from the results of the first Search, concluded in the summer of 1942. Boys and girls awarded honorable mention then have reported a total of $75,912 in scholarships awarded them by colleges and universities. The average value of the scholarships to each of the 113 young people who received them was $672.

Considering all the 260 honorable mentions awarded, the average value of each citation, in dollars alone, came to $292.

Prunes and raisins in good supply, serve them often

Dried prunes and raisins tucked into market baskets this winter will help stretch ration points as well as pennies, says Miss Frances E. Cook, home economist, University of Illinois College of Agriculture. They have excellent keeping qualities, are easy to adapt to menu plans and have so much natural sweetness that little sugar need be added.

Already the new crop is appearing in retail markets, and according to the War Food Administration, the allotment for civilian use is many million pounds a year that of last year. On the other hand, dried peaches, apples and apricots will not be available. All of the dried supply of acceptable quality is needed by the military with the exception of a million pounds of apricots which have been allocated for hospital use. This year's crop of prunes is about average and some of the dried ones will probably be available for civilian purchase.

Figs will be more plentiful than last year, but dates will be short in supply and they will be more expensive. Before the war about 50 million pounds of dates and 6 million pounds of figs were imported annually from Iraq, Iran, Turkey and North Africa. This year most of those on retail are home grown.

NU professor to speak here Tues.

Dr. Howard A. Lane, associate professor of education at Northwestern University, will be the speaker at the February meeting of the Parent Teacher Association, which will meet on Tuesday, February 15 in the North side school, Arlington Heights.

Dr. Lane will speak on "The Child in a Changing World" in conjunction with the theme for the year "Children Challenge the Community."

In a recent lecture Dr. Lane stated "The world's current ind-gence in world wide violence is the inevitable result of man's failure to grow up. Man lacks the intelligence and character to live in the world that his clever hands and mind have created. The 20th Century brought into the world the first commonly schooled generations. It brought too, the bloodiest and most universal wars. Already this century has killed many more men in battle than have all the preceding generations of mankind. And Germany, whose educational system has been admired and copied by all the nations, has committed international crime seven times in the last hundred years. Civilization appears to be losing the mad race between education and catastrophe."

Dr. Lane is the author of many articles on education, and is a lecturer of note. A large audience is anticipated to hear this outstanding leader in the field of education. Kenneth Busse, talented violinist, will also be on the program for the evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Adam Sledz and daughter, Marjorie, and Mrs. Farrell returned this week from a month's vacation in Florida.

Make it easy for servicemen in filling out income tax form

Attorney A. G. Humphrey, author of the accompanying article on the 1943 tax return, is well known in the Palatine-Arlington area. He gave the first of a series of three lectures on "Your Income Tax Return" Monday night at the Highland Park high school. At the request of Padlock publications he prepared the following resume on the rulings of the internal revenue department concerning people in Special concessions for members of the military and naval forces in recent Federal Revenue Acts will relieve many of them from all liability for current income taxes and greatly reduce the amounts due from the others. Except for these provisions, which apply equally to service men and women, the Income Tax laws bind service men in the same manner as civilians.

Meals and quarters

It long has been the rule that amounts paid to a service man, instead of providing his meals and quarters, are not to be considered in computing his income tax. Similarly, the value of lodgings or meals furnished by the Government is not included as part of his taxable income.

Allotments

The amounts deducted from a service man's pay as an allotment to his wife, or other dependents, are part of his income and must be taken into consideration in computing or estimating his tax, but are not to be included as part of the income of the wife or dependent. The amount added by the Government as a monthly family allowance, however, is treated as a gift and is not to be included in the gross income of either the service man or the one receiving the money. The same is true of "gratuity pay," that is, the amount, representing six months' pay, which is paid to the beneficiary of a deceased service man.

Allowance for 1942

Any person, below the grade of commissioned officer, who was in the service on December 31, 1942, was permitted to "exclude" from his service pay $250.00, if single, or $300.00, if married. Such portion of his service pay was treated, in his Income Tax Return, as though never received. This exclusion is limited to service pay and cannot be deducted from any civilian income. The proper amounts for deductions, personal exemption and credit for dependents are subtracted from the remaining income.

Examples

(1) A single man, whose only income is from wages, entered service on September 1, 1942, at which time he had earned $1,600.00 as a civilian. His service pay in 1942 was $200.00. He should have reported $1,600.00 in wages, because the "exclusion" applies only to service pay and cannot be deducted from the income received from any civilian source. (2) If his service pay had been $400.00, he would have reported $1,750.00 in wages, being his $1,600.00 civilian income plus $150.00 of his service pay, for a single man is allowed to deduct only $250.00. (3) If he were a commissioned officer, his gross income would have included both his civilian wages and all of his service pay, as the deduction was allowed only for those below the grade of commissioned officer.

Allowance for 1943

All service pay up to $1,500.00 is excluded in computing the 1943 tax for any man who was in service at any time during 1942 of 1943, — that is, the first $1,500.00 of service pay is ignored as though never received. While the exclusion provided for 1942 applied only to those below the grade of commissioned officer and was different for single and married men, the larger amount permitted in 1943 extends to all service men regardless of grade, rank or marriage status and also to citizens or residents of the United States who are in the military or naval forces of any of the other United Nations. No part of this sum can be deducted from income received from any civilian source.

Pay-as-you-go

The Current Tax Payment Act applies to service men in the same manner as to other individuals, except that a special section provides that no deduction for withholding Tax shall be made from the pay of service men who are on active duty. That law requires him to file a "Declaration of Estimated Income and Victory Tax" and to pay his tax quarterly, if his income is such as to bring him within its terms. A War Department Order, however, has suspended that portion of the law for the year 1943 as to the man who was in military service on September 15, 1943. The practical effect is to relieve him from filing any Declaration in 1943 and from the penalties normally arising from failure to pay installments of the tax due on September 15 and December 15, 1943. No request for such relief is required. As to the year 1943, the man who was in service on September 15, 1943, need only file his usual Income Tax Return by March 15, 1944, and pay the tax then due. For the year 1944, however, he must file his Declaration of Estimated Income and Victory Tax and pay one-fourth of the balance of his estimated tax by March 15, 1944, if he falls within any one of these four classifications:

- (1) A single man expecting to receive civilian wages over $2,500.00.
- (2) A married man who expects his income from civilian wages to exceed $3,700.00.
- (3) A married man whose civilian wages, plus those of his wife, apparently will be more than $3,700.00.
- (4) A single man or a married man (either alone or jointly with his wife) who will have income of $100.00 which is not subject to withholding. This includes service pay, but the majority of service men, after excluding the first $1,500.00, will have nothing from this source to report.

Forgiveness

In effect, the "tax-forgiveness" plan requires payment in full of the LARGER of the 1942 or 1943 tax, plus the so-called "unforgiven" part of the SMALLER. The cancellation or "forgiveness" is based upon the 1942 income tax as originally figured or the 1943 tax, whichever ever is the SMALLER, and is as follows:

- (1) If that tax is less than $50.00, the entire amount is forgiven.
- (2) If such tax is over $50.00, but less than $66.67, the first $50.00 is cancelled and the balance becomes due on March 15, 1944.
- (3) If the tax is $66.67 or more, three-fourths is cancelled and the remaining one-fourth is due on March 15, 1944.

Most men who entered the armed forces late in 1942 or in 1943 will find that their income tax for 1942 is more than that for 1943. In a similar situation, the civilian, in effect, must pay the larger of the two taxes (1942) and also the unforgiven part of the smaller (1943). The man who was in the service at any time during 1942 or 1943, however, is permitted, first, to omit all of his "earned net income" (on his 1942 receipts, then to subtract from the remaining amount of all of his deductions, personal exemption and credit for dependents and, finally, to re-figure his 1942 tax on the balance. This computation is ONLY for the purpose of determining which tax is to be paid in full, — whether the tax for 1942 as re-computed or that for 1943 without any adjustments. The figure used to ascertain the amount of the "unforgiven" tax is the SMALLER of the tax for 1942 AS ORIGINALLY COMPUTED or that for 1943.

To illustrate the foregoing explanation, assume that a married man with no dependents entered service as a commissioned officer on January 1, 1943. During 1942, as a civilian, he had income of $3,600.00 from wages and $2,000.00 from investments. If he had deductions of $300.00, his Income Tax for 1942 would have been $824.40. During 1943, he received $2,000.00 from his investments in addition to his service pay of $2,300.00. In figuring his 1943 Income and Victory Tax, he will exclude or ignore $1,500.00 of his service pay and report only $800.00 from that source. With the income from his investments, his gross income will be $2,800.00. After deducting $300.00 for charities, taxes paid, etc., and his personal exemption, his tax for 1943 will be $297.28.

A civilian would have to pay $824.40 (all of the larger 1942 tax) plus $74.32 (the unforgiven 25 per cent of the smaller 1943 tax). Our service-man, however, can re-figure his 1942 tax as though his only income during that year was $2,000.00 from his investments. He would subtract his deductions of $300.00 and his personal exemption of $1,200.00. The tax for 1942 on the balance would be only $95.00. He would have to pay $297.28, because the 1943 tax is larger than that for 1942 when re-computed. The "unforgiven tax" is $74.32, — that is, 25 per cent of the 1943 tax, for that tax is smaller than the 1942 tax as originally computed. The re-computation of the 1942 tax is ONLY for determining the amount to be paid in full.

For both service men and civilians, where the net income is less than $3,000.00, the entire amount is considered as "earned net income" regardless of the source from which received. If the net income is over $3,000.00, at least that amount is treated as "earned" even though it may not have been from wages or personal services.

In many cases, the installments paid on March 15 and June 15, 1943, will equal or exceed the total due for both 1942 and 1943 after the above computations. In case of over-payment, the excess will be refunded upon request made on the 1943 return. If not paid, one-half of the unforgiven amount can be extended to March 15, 1945, without interest.

Returns and payment

While stationed in CONTINENTAL UNITED STATES, the service man must file his Income Tax Return in the same manner and at the same time as other individuals. After his Return has been filed, he can apply for an extension of the time for paying the tax, without interest, if he can show that his ability to pay has been affected materially by his military service. This extension may be until six months after discharge from service, but must be based upon a written application which includes a rather complete, though short, financial statement.

If the service man is on sea duty or is stationed outside continental United States when his Return, Declaration or payment is due, the time for filing such paper or making the payment is

"HAVE YOU GOT EVERYTHING OF VALUE NOW—EMPTY TOOTH PASTE TUBES, WASTE PAPER, OLD TIN CANS, AND WASTE FAT?"

Ball and chain

George R. Heiden, 24, and Jean Hale, 23, both of Northfield.

Lynn Huffman, 25, and Mrs. Jessie Stipp, 30, both of Mt. Prospect.

Alexander Peterson, 46, Chicago, and Mable Lindhoy, 48, Skokie.

George W. Jayne, 21, Morton Grove, Marion Pollard, 17, Skokie.

Carroll N. Lenox, 33, Glenview, Anna Nachbauer, 18, Morton Gr.

SKOKIE

The will of the late Mrs. Margaret McNally, of Chicago, who died in Park Ridge Jan. 7, leaving a $10,200 estate, has been admitted to probate. She left her household goods and personal effects to a daughter, Margaret McNally, of Skokie, who was also named executrix of the will. Property on Clifton Ave., Chicago, is left to Margaret and a son, Harry, of Joliet. The residue of the estate is ordered to be divided equally between her seven children, who also include Theresa Woods of Skokie.

SUES FOR DIVORCE

Mrs. LaVern Thulke, of Mt. Prospect, has sued Robert J. Thulke for divorce in Superior court. She says they were married in Chicago Nov. 4, 1941.

PATENTS GRANTED

The following patents have just been granted at Washington: D. C. Reybold, Northbrook, and A. J. Fischer, Manhattan, N. Y., apparatus for treating impure liquids. (Two patents.) J. Storer, Glenview, and E. J. Nawoj, Chicago, resilient plug closure.

any amounts paid on account of the tax during that year will be refunded. In addition, taxes for all prior years, including interest and penalties, which remain unpaid at the time of death will be cancelled. If, through misunderstanding, they are paid or collected after the service man's death, the amount will be credited or refunded as an over-payment. For this purpose, "active service" does not depend on the nature of the duties nor geographic location and includes absence from duty on account of sickness, wounds, leave, internment by the enemy or other lawful cause.

Dismissal pay
The 1944 Revenue Act, now before the Senate, contains a provision that "mustering-out payments" given to service men upon their discharge shall not be subject to any tax. It is impossible to tell, at the present time, what final action Congress may take.

Abatement in case of death
If the service man dies after December 6, 1941, and before the end of the war, while in active service as a member of the military or naval forces of the United States or any of the other United Nations, no tax will be due for the year in which his death occurs. If he dies in 1943, the concessions discussed in this article apply only to men and women actually in the armed forces. They do not affect wives or husbands who are not members of the military or naval forces. They must file their Returns and pay their taxes in the same manner and at the same time as other individuals.

A Lecture

on
Christian Science

Entitled
Christian Science:
Its Healing Power

By
Elizabeth McArthur Thomson, C.S.B. of Saint Louis, Missouri
Member of the Board of Lectureship of The Mother Church, The First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston, Massachusetts

Delivered under the auspices of
First Church of Christ, Scientist, of Barrington, Illinois, at church edifice on February 6th, 1944. Sunday afternoon at 4:00 o'clock.

The lecturer spoke substantially as follows:

"The question, What is Truth, and where may it be found? comes to us today in many interesting forms. The constant inquiry into the cause and cure of war, accident, sin, sickness, and death indicates humanity's desire to discover the facts regarding human conditions and to establish, a successful method of healing. To some, the human effort to find Truth, the truth about man and the universe, may appear only as wishful thinking. But wiser men and women will view all honest search throughout the fields of science, theology, and medicine with due respect for both the work and the worker. Everyone is interested in healing. But how to heal and be healed, that is a question still being asked by many persons even after centuries of exploration, analysis, and experimentation along practically every material course.

Christian Science, the perfect Science of living, reveals that God is the inspired Word has provided the perfect answer to every human question, together with the only permanent method of cure. Awaiting the time when all mankind will recognize the truth of being and be healed, true Scientists will go on faithfully working, without fear or discouragement, without acceptance of the thought of failure or defeat.

The Certainty of the Word
Christ Jesus, the greatest thinker and worker of all times, as he stood accused of the Jews, and awaited Pilate's question, "What is truth?" made probably the greatest proclamation of healing of his or any age. Hear his words and consider their import: "To this end I am born, and for this cause came I into the world, that I should bear witness unto the truth." Christian Science has appeared in this age to reveal the truth to which Jesus referred. And from its study and practice we learn that the end of Jesus' work was the demonstration of harmonious, eternal life; and that the cause for which he came, his mission in the so-called human experience, was the proof of man's complete unity with and expression of the one God who is Love.

Mary Baker Eddy, the Discoverer, Founder, and Leader of Christian Science, loved God above all else. A most intelligent and spiritually-minded person from early youth, Mrs. Eddy kept up her search for the ultimate cause of all things, and looked hopefully for the permanent cure of human ills. After years of study and research, Mrs. Eddy saw with spiritual clarity the underlying Principle and rule of scientific being, saw Truth as it is, with its healing power.

Aided by God alone, Mrs. Eddy was able to write the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures." It is the textbook which provides for all mankind a spiritual, practical pattern and method of Christianly scientific teaching and healing.

Jesus prayed that God's kingdom, the manifestation of divine power, would be realized here on earth as in heaven. Christian Science proves that the reign of absolute good is at hand, and that God's power can be demonstrated. Mrs. Eddy has given to the world its greatest present-day blessing. And some day the whole world will give back to her genuine gratitude for the work she has done. Her followers are doing this now every time they think and express the pure idea of Truth."

India

From India comes word from Henry Hajek of Palatine. "See they are taking still more men for service from the old home town. The town must be just about cleaned out by now. "I am working in a hospital here in India. Hear from Bert Sumers of Palatine quite regularly. Seems good to know one of your home town boys is near you even though you are far from home. "Often wonder what kind of Christmas the folks at home had. I wonder if that Christmas tree was standing in the center of town before. This Christmas and New Year's was the dearest I've ever had so far. "Sure would be glad to get some mail from some of my old buddies."

His address is: Pvt. Henry Hajek, 36657615, APO 689 c-o PM, New York, N. Y.

New Caledonia

Andrew Holtzee of Palatine writes from New Caledonia. "Recently met my cousin, Orville Reuter of Elgin, over here, and was sure glad to see him. I heard his boat was in port, so went aboard looking for him. I didn't see him for over two years but finally found him."

Andrew has been in the service three years, two of them overseas. He is a technician, fifth grade.

No. Carolina

Changing his address at Fort Bragg, North Carolina, is chaplain Edwin Stevens of Mt. Prospect. "The Mt. Prospect Herald (to which above change of address applies) is always a welcome visitor. Its news of events and people back home helps a lot to keep me from feeling that I am losing touch with the home town. I'm glad to see the business-like way in which you folks are going after the Bond drive. Also the blood-donor program. We'd all like to get this thing over and come back home just as soon as we can and everybody can find a way to help whether in uniform or on the home front. It's good to know that the folks of Mt. Prospect and Arlington Hts. are trying to do all they can."

His address is Chaplain Edwin I. Stevens, 158th General Hospital, Fort Bragg, N. C.

Maryland

Bill Millay of Arlington Heights recently graduated at the Diesel School at Navy Pier, is now stationed at the U. S. Naval Amphibious Training Base in Soloman, Maryland. He has been assigned to the crew of an LCT. "His address is: William J. Millay, Flc., U.S.N.A.T.B., Soloman Branch, Washington, D.C."

Italy

From Italy this week comes word from Sgt. A. H. Binneboese of Roselle. "Here's one more you can cross off the list as one of Paddock territory servicemen who haven't been heard from as yet. Have just finished reading the November 26th issue of the "Register" for the second time and it's a funny thing but one sure misses a lot of news the first time. The feature "With Uncle Sam," of course, is the pay-off as far as enjoyment is concerned and it's swell to read about what the other fellows are doing and how army and navy life is treating them. The old gang is really getting scattered about. "I'm now located at an air base in Italy and have been overseas now about ten months. Boy! Home sure will be heaven again after these months spent in Africa and Italy. No place like home. You said it. Looks like the old ball is rolling now over here and as long as the news reports continue good the time really whizzes by. I am in the communications end and hold down a "soft" office job. "The weather lately has been very good with plenty of sunshine. Not so, though, in the mountains where there is plenty of snow and cold weather. Nights here are plenty cold and I'll find out in person tonight since it's my turn to pull guard again. The four blankets we have been issued are priceless treasures. It is a very damp cold - just like good old Illinois Chow is pretty good. It has been especially good this last week and the reason being a "bounty" being placed on the mess sergeant's head and he had to produce. Still wondering where he secured all the chicken, steak and fresh hamburger we had. Hope I haven't disillusioned you because we still get our share of C-rations and beans and Spam. "The "Register" is always a welcome sight and usually arrives about a month after publication. It is being sent to me as a gift and really means more to me here than ever before. All I can say is "keep the presses rolling."

His address is Sgt. A. H. Binneboese - 36367782 APO 520 c-o P. M., New York, N. Y.

From Boston, Massachusetts, comes a card from Bill Schoepke, of Arlington Heights. "Still in Boston loading ships. I like this city very much, as the people are swell to servicemen. The service clubs are wonderful. I have guard duty tonight and tomorrow, 2 on and 4 off. "Keep up With Uncle Sam. You are doing a swell job."

His address is Pfc. W. Schoepke, 301 Port Co 518 Port Bn, Army base, Boston 10, Mass.

Mississippi

Home from Camp Shelby, Mississippi, is Lt. Gene Kelly of Palatine. This is his first furlough since the early part of last October. Gene arrived home Saturday and is scheduled to leave again within a few days. "ing plenty of action. He has been in the Ellice Islands, the Samoa group, the Wallace Islands, and the Gilberts. Jack left this country in October, directly from boot training at Great Lakes. He was located for a very short time at Hawaii, and since has covered a lot of territory. No mail caught up with Jack until January 11, when he had a stack arrive all at the same time. He had his Thanksgiving dinner December 12, as he was "very busy" during the Thanksgiving holiday. He was in the location of the Gilberts at that time, and the invasion of those islands took place around Thanksgiving. His letters are very interesting, and Jack seems to be willingly doing his part to get on with the war. He reports that he has picked up a number of souvenirs, which he hopes to have the luck to bring home. "I just thought I would drop off a letter to you and let you know where and what one of your Arlington Heights service men are doing. "All I can really say as to my whereabouts is just somewhere in the South Pacific on an L.S.T. The duty is really swell, even though we are kept busy most of the time. Our job when it comes to invasion is to land the necessary equipment on the island. We just slide up on the beach and empty our load. "Every little while we are interrupted by unwelcome visitors but you can bet your life we show them where they are better off. One thing I enjoy most is trading things with them. They go for most anything you have. They are very friendly and whenever you want some coconuts, up the tree they go and bring them all down. They can use their feet better than you can use their hands. "The swimming is sure ideal, that is, when I have a chance. It's difficult to write in words what it's really like. I don't think one could really visualize it unless they saw it for themselves. "However, it isn't all play like it sounds, it sure isn't any picnic out here. Up to now I believe I've seen enough of war but the only way to win it is to stay and finish it. Gilberts

Mr. and Mrs. Jas. J. Hammon, of Arlington Heights received word this week from their son Jack, who is on duty in the South West Pacific in an L. S. T. boat, saying that he has been made Seaman first class. All letters from him indicate that he is seeing plenty of action. He has been in the Ellice Islands, the Samoa group, the Wallace Islands, and the Gilberts. Jack left this country in October, directly from boot training at Great Lakes.

He was located for a very short time at Hawaii, and since has covered a lot of territory. No mail caught up with Jack until January 11, when he had a stack arrive all at the same time. He had his Thanksgiving dinner December 12, as he was "very busy" during the Thanksgiving holiday. He was in the location of the Gilberts at that time, and the invasion of those islands took place around Thanksgiving. His letters are very interesting, and Jack seems to be willingly doing his part to get on with the war. He reports that he has picked up a number of souvenirs, which he hopes to have the luck to bring home. "I just thought I would drop off a letter to you and let you know where and what one of your Arlington Heights service men are doing. "All I can really say as to my whereabouts is just somewhere in the South Pacific on an L.S.T. The duty is really swell, even though we are kept busy most of the time. Our job when it comes to invasion is to land the necessary equipment on the island. We just slide up on the beach and empty our load. "Every little while we are interrupted by unwelcome visitors but you can bet your life we show them where they are better off. "Once in a while we have a chance for a little time ashore and boy, I sure make use of my liberty. It's most interesting to see and talk with the different natives and see their homes. Virginia

Forrest Davis, Arlington Hts. village clerk now in the navy, has been home the past week from Camp Peary, Virginia. "Slim" looks fine with that reduced waistline (minus four inches) and says he plans to stay that way even after this war is over.

Forrest is scheduled to return to camp Thursday. He is stationed in the Seabees, though he may be transferred to the navy now that boot training is over.

"I don't care for Richmond and Virginia," says Slim. "Biggest wonder of the boys there are why Grant ever bothered to take Richmond. The climate is too wet and it doesn't have the life and activity that the middle west has."

Laird Busk of Mount Prospect writes from Alexandria, Virginia. "Enjoy receiving the Herald each week and intend to write my impressions of Washington, D.C., before long."

His address is Laird H. Busk, Spec (1) USN, 3816 Old Dominion road, Apt. 6, Alexandria, Virginia.

Great Lakes

A new recruit at the U. S. Naval Training Station, Great Lakes, is Carl W. Zepp, Jr., 17, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Zepp Sr., Route No. 1, Palatine.

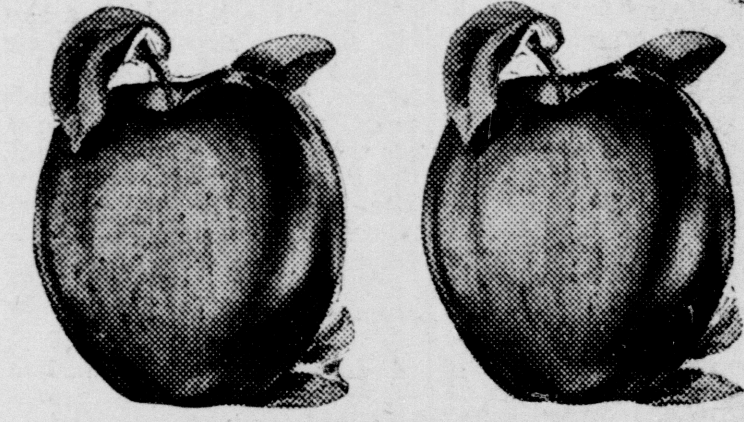

Now undergoing "boot" training, he is being indoctrinated into Navy Life, and is being instructed in Seamanship, military drill, and naval procedure. Soon, he will be given a series of aptitude tests to determine whether he will be selected to attend one of the Navy's service schools, or will be assigned to active duty at sea.

Florida

Expected to graduate by February 15 at Pensacola, Florida, is Paul Wulbecker of Arlington Heights. Paul enlisted as a naval air cadet September 8, 1942, receiving primary training at Minneapolis, Minn. He entered Pensacola October 7 of last year.

Bad flying weather has held up Paul's class, but he is expected to graduate by the middle of this month and be assigned to active duty.

Bensenville soldier aids rescue of men

Private Robert A. Grimm, husband of Mrs. Nedy Grimm, 135 N. Pershing st., Bensenville, received a letter of commendation this week from Co. Sherman L. Kiser, commanding officer of the Transportation Corps, RTC at Camp Plauche, New Orleans, La. Private Grimm was commended for his participation in the rescue and first aid to fellow soldiers in a boat accident on Lake Pontchartrain, La., on December 17, 1943, in which 26 soldiers met death. The Bensenville soldier worked in one of the rescue squads following the sinking of a troop boat. He also gave up his clothing to water-soaked buddies. The commendation explained that Private Grimm helped save many lives through obedience to orders, prompt action and good judgment.

Washington

Writing from Tacoma, Washington, this week is Don Jaacks of Arlington Heights. "I want to thank you for sending me the Herald every week. It really makes me feel good to read all about the folks back home and also the fellows in the service of our country all over the world. "I think that those letters from the fellows in the service that you print in your paper is a wonderful idea. "I was inducted into the Engineers Corps of the U. S. army last July 24. After spending a whole week at my reception center, Camp Grant, I was sent to Camp Claiborne, La. During my two months stay at this camp I received four weeks of base training plus a lot of detail work to make up the other four weeks. "I was then shipped to Camp White, Oregon. This brought me a long ways from home, but this camp was a lot nicer in comparison to Claiborne. After two more months of detail work I started my basic training all over again December 1. Completing five weeks of basic training we started on some advance training. "After three weeks of advance training I was sent on detached service from my company to this machinist school at Mt. Ranier Ordnance Depot, at Tacoma, Washington. "This is a very interesting course and I will attend this school for three months. I want again to thank you for sending me your paper every week."

His address is Pfc Donald Jaacks, ASN 36681751, Provisional Co. A, Bks 8016, Mt. Ranier Ordnance Depot, Tacoma, Wash.

Enlist

John Domek of Arlington Heights qualified last week for Army Aviation Cadet training with the Air Forces, according to Capt. F. A. Wilgus, president of the Army Aviation Cadet Examining Board at 166 W. Van Buren st., Chicago. John graduated from Palatine high school. Young men 17 years old are not called for active training until they are 18. Capt. Wilgus pointed out. Until called to active duty, they serve in the Air Corps Enlisted Reserve and wear a small pair of blue and silver wings upon their civilian clothing. Robert Salzman of Mt. Prospect is another youth who has qualified for army air corps training.

California

Aviation Cadet Lester S. Bennett, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Lester G. Bennett of Arlington Heights, is a member of a class of student officers and aviation cadets to be graduated soon from the army air forces pilot school (advanced two engine) at Stockton Field, Cal.

He will be made a full-fledged pilot and will be given the coveted silver wings. He will be placed on active duty in his rank with the army air forces.

Before entering the final and advanced course at Stockton Field, Cadet Bennett completed 18 weeks of primary and basic training at Tucson, Arizona, and Bakersfield, California.

Stockton Field is the oldest advanced pilot school in the Western Flying Training Command. Many of its graduates have been cited for heroism in the sky battles over Europe, Africa, Asia and the Southwest Pacific.

Connecticut

Just arrived at the submarine base at New London, Connecticut, is Bill Weber of Arlington Hts. "Arrived here yesterday at 6:30. Town didn't look big. It has a lot of hills, however. Every time you turn around you're climbing some sort of hill. It's an old town with more durn sailors around. "Saw my first sub last night. They have one here in dry dock, and it sure is a beautiful sight. The base is on the Thames river, about two miles up from town. The barracks are large and nice, with very fine bunks. Chow is plenty O. K. "First two weeks we'll be working, then the school will start. Saw Jim Kellogg (Arlington Heights) at the chow hall today. He ships out tomorrow."

Bill completed quartermaster school at Great Lakes about the first of February. Quartermasters in the navy steer the ship, keep the log, and perform other duties. His address is William F. Weber, S 1/C, Box 7 US Sub Base, New London, Conn.

These six airlines are the first to announce officially the type of equipment that will be used in air transport operations after the war. The commercial version of the C-54 is expected to reduce present long distance travel time by one fourth.

Powered with four Pratt and Whitney engines totalling 4400 horsepower the C-54 will carry fifty-five passengers plus mail and express with a cruising speed of 220 miles an hour. This is approximately 50 m.p.h. faster than the twin-engine DC-3 now standard on the nation's airways.

MAC SAYS:

BY GERALD A. McELROY

The Northwest Conference championship will be decided Friday night at Lake Zurich where unbeaten Bensenville and Ela quintets will play the crucial game on their schedules. The winner will just about clinch undisputed honors for the only remaining opponents for the leaders will be Grant and Northbrook, both of whom have yet to notch their first victory. Ela beat Bensenville in the league tournament 32-18 but the tables might be turned this time though Ela has the home court in their favor. We are pulling for Bensenville under the dog to topple the cocky Ela team from the top position but we doubt if they can do it. Lack of height gives Ela the edge. If the Bensenville boys are hitting their shots that rebounding advantage won't mean so much, however.

Play to Get Out Of Cellar

Friday's games also bring together the tail end Grant and Northbrook teams, neither of which has recorded a league victory to date. Grant ranks as a favorite in this game. All games bring together teams ranking next to each other in the standings. At Palatine the Pirates should gain a degree of revenge on Wauconda for their tournament defeat and a tie with them for third place in the standings. It should be a close low score game if past records are any indication. Barrington will attempt to move up in the standings at Antioch but it looks like the Sequoia's will win a close decision on their home court. However, Barrington's league leading lights should maintain their top position by defeating second place Antioch.

Lakers Win 14 of 15 Games

Crystal Lake has won 14 out of 15 varsity games and 10 out of 11 junior varsity games this season for one of the best records in the area. The only varsity defeat was to Palatine and the only lightweight setback was at the hands of Barrington. Crystal Lake does not have a single senior on their basketball squads this year and all their players are young enough so there is no danger of them being drafted next year. It looks like Crystal Lake should be the Northwest favorite as the league returns to an official schedule in 1944-45. However do not overlook Niles. They have some under class players and a powerhouse lightweight team.

Saturday, February 19, Crystal Lake meets Ela, who has also suffered but one defeat also at the hands of Palatine.

Vogt Sets Hot Scoring Pace

Since the Christmas holidays Melvin Vogt, Palatine senior forward, has set a torrid scoring pace. In six games against Antioch, Northbrook, Arlington, Bensenville, Grant and Crystal Lake Vogt has racked up 103 points for an average of 17.2 points per game. Vogt expects a call to service from his draft board by March 1. He was 19 on January 26 and was told that he would be called very soon.

Arlington Plays Heavy Weekend Schedule

If we read our schedule right, Arlington is in for a really busy weekend. Friday the Cards go to Leyden for a return game. Last night the Cards beat the Eagles in an overtime. Saturday the Cards are at home to Warren, the team they should have beaten at Gurnee but did not. With a rest on Sunday the Cardinals will again get into action. On Monday with a return engagement against Ela, the Northwest Conference leaders at Lake Zurich. With a pretty well conditioned squad and lots of good replacements, Arlington should make a good showing in spite of the heavy schedule this week.

Pirates Look Ahead to Barrington Games

With a 10 straight record over Arlington the Palatine Pirates are hoping to hang the same mark on Barrington next week in the final game of the regular season. The odd part of it is that Palatine and Barrington will meet again in the following Wednesday in the district tournament. Palatine Lights view the Barrington game as a do or die affair as they must win to share the junior title with the Bronchos. Barrington teams have a reputation for being very tough at home.

Palatine overruns Grant, 42-21, 39-15

Lights notch sixth victory

Palatine won a conference double header from Grant Friday by one sided scores. The lightweight team had little trouble winning 39-15 as they hit the hoop from all angles for their sixth league win in eight games. The varsity ran wild in the second half to win going away 42-21.

Birks and Toppel each scored three field goals in the opening quarter of the lightweight game as the junior Pirates pulled away out in front 14-0. Leading 29-7 at the end of the third period, Coach J. E. Stutzman used reserves to finish the game and they outscored Grant. Seven Palatine boys scored with Toppel's nine points and Birks' eight being the high totals.

The Palatine varsity was hard pressed all the first half due to their own inability to hit the basket. Mel Vogt, who eventually scored 17 points, shot 11 times before he got his first field goal just before the half as Palatine held a meager 15-11 lead. The Pirates hit a fast pace after Grant got a basket to narrow the margin to 15-13. Eighteen points were put through the hoop by the Pirates while Grant was getting two more in the third quarter. Palatine time kept right on with 16 more in the last eight minutes. Clarence Herr, who caged 14 points, got four goals in the third period rally while M. Vogt sank four in the final quarter. Harvey Oltendorf also scored nine of his 10 points in the second half. Mahoney topped Grant 10 points.

Leaders tie in Frosh Soph intramurals

Al Griffith and Lloyd Baldwin's teams are leading the Frosh-Soph intramural league at Arlington with six victories as against one defeat each. At least three other teams are within striking distance with four games to go on the regular round.

Wm. Wille is making a show of the field in scoring, totaling exactly 100 points in his first seven games. This is almost double the points made by Burton Dahlstrom, his nearest competitor. Both of these boys live in Mt. Prospect. The nearest Arlington boys are below the 50 mark.

Palatine frosh lose to Broncs

Palatine's freshmen cagers won and lost during the past week. After whipping Arlington 22-12 led by Kolze's 14 points the first year Pirates lost Monday night to Barrington 25-13. This gives Palatine a split for the season with both Barrington and Arlington.

Bisons notch eighth in row over Antioch

Bensenville grabs early lead; lights win, too

Bensenville Bisons made it eight straight Northwest Conference victories Friday by crushing a good Antioch team 47-22. Led by Benham, who hit six long shots, the Bisons were way out in front 20-8 at the half and 38-12 at the end of the third quarter.

Antioch found Bensenville's defense a very tough proposition and Wilhelm, six foot three center, scored only four points. Wilhelm had been leading the conference scoring until he met up with the Bisons. Benham and Kernats, rated the best guards in the league, compiled 22 of the Bison points. Schoppe was second high scorer with 12.

Bensenville's lights ended the championship hopes of Antioch's lightweight team by a 17-11 score. The margin might have been much greater had the Bensenville lads been hitting the basket with any degree of consistency. They led 17-6 going into the final quarter. Huffman led with seven points.

Pirates lose two to Crystal Lake

Lights lose in overtime

Palatine lost a double bill at Crystal Lake Saturday night in a pair of very good ball games by scores of 39-31 in the varsity tilt and 30-29 in an overtime lightweight battle. The Pirates have lost only one varsity and one lightweight game this season. Crystal Lake's Tigers got revenge for the 18-16 beating suffered at Palatine just before Christmas but had their hands full all the way. As the Pirates slowed down the Tigers' famed fast break they stayed right with the winners 5-5 at the quarter and 13-12 at the half. After the lead alternated several times in the third period, Legel and Timm accounted for three straight shots over the Palatine zone and from then on the Tigers were never headed. In fact they had a 27-20 lead at the quarter and early in the last segment had moved into a 36-22 lead but Melvin Vogt hit four consecutive one hand set shots from the corner to put the score back on a respectable basis.

Guards put Crystal Lake in front

The shooting ability of Legel and Timm, Crystal Lake's lanky guards, was the deciding factor in the game as they did most of their scoring in the third period when the Tigers got their lead. In that same period fumbled defensive rebounds and numerous missed drive in shots prevented Palatine from keeping pace with the eventual winners. Mel Vogt had his best game of the season with 19 points and a 50 per cent shooting record from the field but the rest of the Pirates weren't hitting. Boward and Oltendorf did some nice defensive work for Palatine. Schroeder, the Tigers' high scoring center, had a bad night with but three points. Hayden, Legel, and Timm were the Tiger

Bronchos press hard but lose to Ela, 41-35

Hard pressed for the first time since the holiday tournament, Ela proved their class by winning from Barrington Friday 41-35. The Bronchos who were trailing 19-15 at the half came back to tie the score at 20 all but Wesner's Ela five pulled away to a six point lead which they maintained thru the final quarter. Barrington held Jim Ladd, Ela center, scoreless in the first half. It was his nine points in the third quarter which decided the game. Rudy was high for Ela with 11 points. Weber, Broncho guard, led his team with 12 points which included eight out of 12 free throws. It was Ela's 11th straight victory since losing the opener of the season 35-33 at Palatine.

LIFE WITH MOTHER

Feb. 4, 1944.

Dear Eleanor,

About that Ginger-bread Man . . . as I remember it, Mother used her recipe for molasses and ginger cookies. She rolled the brown dough to the right thickness, and then very carefully cut with a common kitchen knife, the outline of a boy. She used raisins for his eyes, mouth and the buttons down his chest, leaving us to assume he possessed two ears and a nose. We enjoyed looking at him very much, and didn't eat him until all the other cookies were gone. (I believe I saw a cookie cutter of the Ginger-bread Man in a hardware store some time ago.)

I can't find Mother's particular recipe to send on to you, but if you use any favorite recipe for molasses cookies that you have, and your own artistic ability, I'm sure Louis will be very pleased with the results.

George and I had a day for ourselves last Saturday! We took a morning train to the city, and went directly to the Art Institute. He had previously looked at a catalogue I have on the War Art pictures, and wanted to see that show first. He surprised me by recognizing some of the work of Tom Lea, which he first saw reproduced in Life magazine.

Tom Lea is an old school friend of Gladys from El Paso, Texas. He has been commissioned by Life magazine to do series of paintings in the various theatres of the War. He has been aboard destroyers in both the Atlantic and the Pacific. He was on the 'Hornet' and witnessed the sinking of the 'Wasp.' He has now completed his paintings of the Solomon Islands and is once again about to take off for another spot in the war area.

This is certainly far different from previous wars when the artist painted largely from hearsay and imagination. Did you read that the famous picture of Washington crossing the Delaware was painted by a German in Germany?

Knowing very little about what is 'good' and what is 'bad' in Art, I can only say that Tom Lea's work pleases me immensely. I think he is a splendid draftsman. These particular subjects are quite naturally of a virile nature, and he doesn't let you down, not once, with what he has painted. He makes me feel, that indeed there IS a war on, and here are the pictures to prove it! I may enjoy a painting of a beautiful meadow and children fishing in the stream, but I must also face reality and acknowledge the world we are living in today. These young painters are stimulating, to say the very least about them!

Barse Miller has some water colors very much to my liking, especially one he calls 'Bridge'.

After allowing George to make several trips up and down the corridor and the room where these War pictures are shown, we went down stairs to have our lunch in the cafeteria. (By the way, the food there has vastly improved since Mrs. Ludlow took over the management.)

We lingered over our meal, while I pointed out the people I recognized who are connected with the Institute in one way or another. I have never failed to see Dudley Crafts Watson there. He always has at least two wide-eyed females in tow who hang on to every word he utters. He is a colorful figure, isn't he? I wonder what the Institute (to say nothing of the women who simply must go to Mexico every year) would do without him!

Luncheon over, we went to Fullerton Hall on the first floor to see the Artist's Movies. We saw and heard Iturbi play both the piano and the harpsicord. There was also a harpist, a cellist, and for the finale, a singer unfamiliar to me, who gave a delightful humorous rendition of 'Figaro' from Rossini's 'Barber of Seville'. George enjoyed all of this keenly.

We then went upstairs to see the current exhibition by artists of Chicago and vicinity. Your friend, Elsie Jones, has a portrait called 'High School Girls', that I saw before in the North Shore Artist's show. One of the young women looks so much like Elsie, that I suspect she used one of her daughters for the model. A very striking looking girl, and a fine painting, I think.

Leopold Seyffert, Jr., has, to my way of judging, a very beautiful portrait called 'Tody'. The hands are exquisitely drawn and painted. Let me know if you share my enthusiasm for this one.

Our neighbor, Joseph Vavak, has an oil called 'Evening in Fall'. It was painted from the terrace facing the garden of his home here in the village. His use of color is remarkable. There is a sensitiveness and honesty about his work that refuses to be overlooked; and an orderliness that I greatly admire.

Rowena Fry has a small oil I wouldn't mind owning! It is an old-fashioned wood coffee mill, a pot of salmon colored geraniums, and a pair of scissors.

Our childhood friend, Wally Purcell, (John Wallace Purcell) in the show, has done a head in apple-wood for the sculpture exhibit. You know, of course, that he has been teaching sculpture in the children's classes for a number of years. I have yet to see an exhibit of his I didn't like! The bronze relief of Jens Jensen that he did several years ago is still pleasantly fresh in my memory.

We met several of George's school friends and their mothers, who were there also to see the Artist's movies, (all of the children are piano pupils of Mr. Vavak's). One of the boys and George skipped off by themselves for awhile. Later on I learned that George had been showing Dick the Institute from the top floor to the basement. I have always given my permission to George to walk around the Institute alone when he asked to, for I want him to become familiar with the different galleries, and to be able to go in search of the things that interest him without any influence from me.

We are still waiting for Bob's orders to come from the Navy. His school chum, Bob Little, received his last Monday, and is assigned to Dartmouth for the end of this month. I doubt very much if the two boys will be together as they had hoped, but one never knows. They are very anxious to be off on their first big adventure, and who am I to wish for anything else than what they want?

Our first fledgling is about to fly from the nest, Eleanor. I wish I could act as wisely as the mother robin, but I'm afraid I can't!

Love to all your dear ones, and you,

Mary.

New York

From Long Island, New York, comes word of James Gieseke of Roselle.

"I am writing the people of Roselle a letter to let them all know how good old New York, or I should say Long Island is. We haven't had any snow up here as yet and the weather is just like spring. But I would much rather be back in good old Roselle where the people all know each other and always have a word for you. And I sure would like to hear from them.

"I want to advise anybody who is going into the service to tell them to try and get to a good branch of the service such as the Navy Construction outfit, the Sea Bees. It consists of any man that has a trade from a landscaper to ship builder. It's a good rate of pay, and they treat you just like a king."

His address is James Gieseke MM3c, Co B 114 Batt Co D Plt 4, Lido Beach, Long Island, New York.

Bluejacket Alvin A. Werner, AS, 302 S. Evergreen st., Arlington Heights has completed his basic recruit training at Sampson, N. Y., naval training station on the shores of Seneca Lake and has been granted leave.

Upon his return to Sampson, he will be eligible for further assignment which may qualify him for a petty officer rating.

West Indies

Phoning his parents from the West Indies over the week-end was Herbert Malzahn of Arlington Heights.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Malzahn were informed Saturday afternoon that the call would be placed at 5:30 Sunday afternoon. They were instructed not to talk about the war, and other matters vital to the nation's safety. The call was anxiously awaited and received Sunday.

Herb said that he was feeling fine, was in the best of health, and wanted to be remembered to his friends in Arlington. He stated the call was a birthday call to his two sisters, whose birthdays occur this month.

His address is Herbert Malzahn, Y 2/C, USN camp 154, Box 20, c/o FPO New York, N. Y.

His address is: Pfc. Edwin E. Leiseberg, 36322564 Hq Co 97th Signal Bn, APO 403-A c/o PM, Shreveport, Louisiana.

California

Awaiting debarkation in California is Emerson Sander of Palatine.

"I'm now attached to the Marine Air Corps with a radar outfit or air warning group. It's a swell outfit, swell fellows and officers, everyone a real white guy. We're ready to go overseas, all packed, just waiting for the word.

"Yesterday I went through a Combat Reaction Course. They use live ammunition in 30 cal. machine guns which were fired a few feet over our heads. The course started with a mine field which I helped to clear. Then we went through a small village, which was deserted by the "enemy." They had all doors and windows rigged up with booby traps. You'd open a door and set off an explosive. Then we came to the front line trenches. We crawled on our stomachs a distance of 200 yards. All the while records were playing recordings of planes diving, bombs whistling. Then the officers in charge of the course would set off charges planted near us and they would shower us with dirt, gravel and mud.

"They also kept throwing large firecrackers at us and all the while the bullets were going over our heads. We crawled through two barbed wire entanglements and ended up in a trench knee deep in water. Then a smoke screen was laid and we fixed bayonets and charged over the top and tore at the dummies with our bayonets. They played a recording of a Marine taken prisoner, plus an Army Nurse being molested by the Japs. That really spurred us on. It sure was exciting but what work, hard on the knees and stomach going over that rough ground. We were all covered with mud afterwards, really covered.

"I'd like to thank the Ladies Auxiliary and Legion and all those who are responsible for the fellows in service receiving the Palatine paper. It's really a pleasure to receive the home town paper and I really do appreciate it."

His address is Pfc. Emerson Sander, AWG 2 3rd Squadron, MC AD Miramar, San Diego 45, California.

Virginia

the Chicago White Sox baseball nine. Luke is rated by many as one of the best shortstops in game.

"It is 10:30 p.m., and we have been walking through mud and water with galoshes on since 6:30 on a night problem. I am not too tired, but I used to think hikes were fun.

"There is always something doing at night. We get tests on notes we take, and have to memorize quite a bit. We had several days of calisthenics and double time. Then we received our typhoid and tetanus shots, and a smallpox vaccination. The boys who need dental work are getting that, too.

"We have our own radio station in camp, and they hook up with the mess halls, so we have some music and news. We have passes for Richmond, Hopewell and Petersburg, and can come and go with them on our free time (there isn't any) whenever we want.

"Here is a snapshot of Luke Appling and me. He and I are in the same company."

His address is: Pvt. Lawrence W. Knaack, Co. A Barracks T-499, 7th Q.M. Training Regt. Camp Lee, Virginia.

William J. Wilton, SK 2/C, on furlough from the Navy, and accompanied by his wife, Elsie, paid a surprise visit Saturday evening to his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Francis K. Wilton, 211 N. State Road, Arlington Heights. Sailor "Bill" looked around town and said that the buildings are still here, but the place does not seem the same since the boys are now in the service.

Sailor Wilton will be back in Camp Peary, Virginia, next Sunday. He wants to be remembered to all his friends.

His address is Area D-10. Bar. 112, Camp Peary, Va.

Home on furlough from Camp Pickett, Virginia, is Corporal John Booth of Palatine. John has been given a royal welcome at home.

So. Pacific

Changing stations in the South Pacific is Clarence Deering of Palatine. We still do not know his exact whereabouts.

"Sorry I took so long to write but have been so busy here haven't had much time. We changed islands just recently. The moving cut off radio school right in the middle. It's hard to tell now whether or not I'm a radio operator.

"Haven't had time even to read the Palatine paper except for the service letters. I notice more Palatine boys are writing lately."

His address is: Pvt. C. J. Deering, 36377576, APO 33 c/o PM, San Francisco, Cal.

Leatherneck Raiders Attack Torokina

A group of Marine Raiders crouch in the dense jungle undergrowth shortly after landing on the beach at Torokina in the Bougainville campaign. Camouflaged helmets and suits make it difficult for enemy planes and snipers to spot the jungle-fighting Soldiers of the Sea.

Soldier vote battle rages

'42 bill permits voting, present conflict concerns method

Whatever comes out of the 3-way controversy between the house, the senate, and the president on the pending bills to provide votes for soldiers, the men and women in the armed forces will still be able to vote. Somewhat forgotten in the heated discussion was the fact that in the summer of 1942, congress passed and the president signed a bill to make it possible for men and women in the services who are absent from their states on military duty to vote. That is the law today.

That bill was passed by Congress in July of 1942, by a 4 to 1 vote and the only real controversy at that time arose over a provision which prohibited certain states in the south making the payment of poll taxes a condition or qualification for voting. There are still 7 states which require a poll tax payment before an otherwise qualified person can vote but the federal law of 1942 virtually nullified that provision insofar as it might apply to a vote for President, Senator or Congressman.

In general, the law now provides for making a post-card application for a ballot and for an official war ballot to be supplied by the Secretaries of State of the various states. The 1942 law was therefore in effect at the time of the November elections in 1942. It is a fact however that but a small number of men in service voted.

There are those who felt that it was up to the Federal Government to handle the ballots. They contended that it was constitutional for Congress to make special provision for a soldier vote and that the task of getting the ballot over and back in time for November was the big job. This would have to be done by the Army and Navy by means of military planes.

Out of these contentions there came the Bill to create a Federal Ballot Commission which would supervise balloting by soldiers by means of a very simple and brief ballot on which the soldier could merely write down the name of the political party for which he wished to vote. That is how the proposed ballot came to be called the "bottailed ballot."

Others on the other hand contended that under the Constitution it was entirely in the hands of the states as to how, when, and where a person who was absent on military duty could vote and that Congress had no authority to do anything about it other than to recommend to the states that they take all necessary action to facilitate and expedite soldier voting.

The federal view crystallized in the form of the Green-Lucas Bill while the State view was set forth in the so-called Rankin Bill. These two views clashed on the floor of Congress for three days. It was finally disposed in the House about eleven o'clock at night of the third day when the State view prevailed, and the Rankin Bill was passed.

When the Senate completes action on the bill before it, members of the House and Senate will then sit down around the table and try to thresh out their differences. If they fail to do so and no new legislation results, the men and women in service can still vote under the act of 1942 and it behooves the officials of all states to make every endeavor to see that the folks in uniform are provided with ballots.

Ice-Capades at Chicago arena

"Ice-Capades of 1944," fourth edition of the great ice revue, opens a limited engagement Tuesday night, Feb. 29, at the Chicago Arena, Erie, McClurg Court and Ontario. Performances will be held nightly at 8:30 in addition to Sunday matinees at 2:30. The opening night will be a benefit sponsored by the Northwestern University Settlement.

Tickets already have been placed on sale at the Arena box office, and mail orders also are being accepted there. Seats are now available at the Hub box office, State and Jackson.

This fourth and Victory edition of "Ice-Capades" has a cast of 152 in 30 brilliant numbers, seven of them gorgeous production presentations. The 75 lovely "Ice-Ca"pets are sensational in their precision maneuvers.

One of the highlight production numbers is a beautiful South Sea fantasy, entitled "Song of the Islands," a pantomimic love story on ice synchronized with words and music. Two timely patriotic numbers are entitled "Semper Paratus U.S.M.C." which features the "Ice-Ca"pets in the Marine Corps' marching manual of arms, and "Flight to Victory," a salute to the women building our fighting planes. In the latter number, the entire cast appears on ice and re-constructs before the audience a big bomber plane.

We do OUR BEST WORK on Both Fronts

Practically all new telephone equipment now being made is for war—special instruments for planes, tanks, ships and field systems.

Yet, in the face of critical shortages of materials, we have been able to stretch existing facilities to give most people normal service.

If you could spend a week with an Illinois Bell repair man, you'd see many amazing ways of "making it do." You'd see how we use plastics, glass, wood and leather, to replace tin, aluminum, rubber and other war-needed materials.

He'd tell you that many worn parts and pieces are reconditioned to serve "like new." He'd show you new devices invented under the pressure of war to cut down wastes and keep up the service.

Telephone people are working as a team to give you all the service there is! And they intend to stay at that job, regardless of difficulties.

Bert Sumers of Palatine writes this week from China.

"Wonder how all the pool sharks in Palatine are getting along. I haven't seen a table since the last time home, and have almost forgotten what they look like. Also, haven't had a coke in six months.

"Had a letter from Hank Hake. He's over in India not too far from here. I passed right through the place on my way here, but didn't know he was there. Heard Bucky Harris is a cook in the maritime service. Sure would hate to eat the stuff after he had thrown it together.

Africa

Master Sergeant Elmer Schmitt, of Arlington Heights, on duty with the ground crew of the air corps, somewhere in Africa, had a very pleasant surprise recently, as did his unexpected guest, Lieut. Edward Mills, of Arlington, who walked into his office following a delay in his flight. "Bud" was on the "move" and due to plane trouble was delayed for a few hours, which gave the former schoolmates an opportunity to catch up on home town news. T/Sergeant Schmitt has just recently received his promotion to Master Sergeant.

It was the first time since Elmer's stay of more than a year in Africa, that he has seen any one from home, and also Lieut. Mills' first visit with a home town boy.
